

Diversity Data on Full-Time Faculty Members and Undergraduates Fall 2024

When reporting campus population data to the federal government, institutions must use a set of categories that blend race, ethnicity, and citizenship. For example, non-U.S. citizens are reported as such, regardless of their race/ethnicity. The tables below show those figures as well as the ones that result when we count our non-U.S.-citizen students and faculty members by their race/ethnicities. These methods of counting yield two different measures of student and faculty diversity, neither of which is necessarily more accurate. For some purposes, we are interested in knowing our percentage of U.S. students and faculty of color, and for other purposes, we want to know about people of color in general. (Note that students and faculty members counted as U.S. citizens include foreign-born, naturalized citizens; permanent residents; and dual citizens.)
