

PROGRAM OF EVENTS

AUGUST 24-28

Welcome Home!

Welcome to your Connecticut College Orientation! The Orientation program will introduce you to the core principles that govern how we learn and live together as a community. Throughout the next four years, you will make connections with different students, faculty and staff members here that will help you grow and expand your knowledge about yourself and the world around you. This knowledge will enable you to make connections across the different aspects of your academic and extracurricular life both on and off campus. Here are some steps to help you to have a successful career at Connecticut College:

- Take responsibility for your learning and your choices
- Engage constructively with each other and the larger world
- Make reflective choices that balance your career, commitments and personal well-being

The Orientation program will help you connect the expectations, opportunities and resources available so you can begin to build your Connecticut College experience.

As a result of participating in Orientation, you will:

- Understand the mission and core values of Connecticut College
- Learn about academic and co-curricular campus resources, and ways to become an involved citizen
- Understand the educational and social benefits of engaging with diversity
- Design a balanced academic schedule for the fall semester, in conjunction with your advising team, and dive deeply into the Connections curriculum

- Embrace the importance of the Connecticut College Honor Code and articulate the expectations entailed by signing the Honor Code
- Recognize the connection between well-being and academic success
- Learn how to live in a community with your peers and how your behaviors/actions have an impact on your community
- Understand what it means to be an active bystander
- Forge new friendships through fun and enjoyable social interactions

As a result of participating in Orientation, parents and families of first-year students will:

- Discover the depth of Connecticut College resources for student success while developing a realistic perspective about the types of challenges students may face during the first year of college
- Recognize their role as partners with Connecticut College in an effort to help students achieve the best possible education
- Learn about expectations for behavior related to a student's academic and social development

Share your Orientation Day memories by using the hashtag #Home2Conn!

Above: 102nd Convocation, Aug. 29, 2016

President Katherine Bergeron will call together the College community and officially proclaim the opening of the academic year at Convocation, a joyous and proud College tradition. Convocation is celebrated on Tempel Green, the very center of our campus, and will include a procession of faculty, class officers and all first-year students.

Anne Bernhard, professor of biology, will deliver the keynote address, "Humpback Whales, Bacteria, and the Liberal Arts."

Following the ceremony, the campus community is invited to the Convocation Picnic on Chapel Green.

In case of rain, Convocation will be in Palmer Auditorium and the Convocation Picnic will be in Harris Refectory.

All new students will meet at 4:15 p.m., on the west (green) side of Palmer Auditorium to line up for the procession.
