

If you are a Federal Pell Grant recipient, you might be eligible to receive money for books and supplies if the following applies:

- You are registered for courses for the applicable semester.
- You have been notified of your financial aid eligibility. You can view your aid eligibility on the self-service section of CamelWeb.
- If awarded federal student loans, you have completed the master promissory note and disclosure requirements. You can view the self-service section of CamelWeb to determine if these requirements have been satisfied.
- Your aid for the semester (excluding Federal Work Study) and any payments made by you and/or your parents exceeds the comprehensive fee for that semester.

If you meet the conditions above the Bursar will send to you this money via direct deposit or a paper check. You have the right to opt out of this refund program. Please contact the Financial Aid Services staff for clarification.
